

Senator Jon Tester Meets with GreenWorld Partners to Discuss Biomass Technology

Rhyno Stinchfield and Rob Lockhart GreenWorld Partners; Senator Jon Tester

July 18, 2012 – Senator Jon Tester of Montana and his Energy Staff met with Rhyno Stinchfield, CEO and Rob Lockhart, CFO of GreenWorld Partners to discuss the leading edge biomass-to-energy technology that they represent. Senator Tester, a strong advocate of this type of technology, is working on legislature to allow the harvesting of millions of acres of trees in Montana that have been killed by pine bark beetles. These dead forests represent a dangerous fire hazard to the state and could be converted into a heat source and electricity.
